PlayAudioVideo - Bigger, Better and Easier to use

PlayAudioVideo, the first multimedia search engine on the web, has increased their index and made a total change of the interface. PlayAudioVideo has received a lot of responses since the opening of version 1 in February 2008. Most changes are now completed and version 2 opens on June 17. Besides a total change of the interface, the content has been increased to 3 billion pages indexed, with 12 million audio files, 18 million videos and 632 million images.

PlayAudioVideo indexes whatever multimedia it can find on the web, located on pages or inside torrent files, and shows you where it is located/stored on the web.

PlayAudioVideo is the only search engine that presents sound, video and image results on the same result page, independent of file format. Additionally, you can pre-listen and pre-view short sound and video clips for the results before deciding to visit the home page or play the file in your browser.
